A WORKSHOP FOR COUPLES

Getting
The Love
You Want

2016

Getting the Love You Want

...an intensive two-day workshop for married and unmarried couples to rediscover the joy and spiritual potential of being together while using their relationship for personal change and growth.

This two-day couple's workshop is often compared to three to six months of weekly couple's therapy.

First featured on Oprah almost 20 years ago, in a recent anniversary issue of her Oprah Magazine she claimed . . .

"One of my top twenty best shows ever!"

What Others Are Saying . . .

"I've known Rick for many years as a friend and as a professional. His program has helped countless couples achieve happier marriages and relationships!"

Doc Rivers, Head Coach
NBA Los Angeles Clippers

"At a time when marriage seems to be a most endangered institution, Rick Brown offers powerfully effective, common sense tools with which to develop and maintain loving relationships. Our marriage was powerfully enriched."

The Honorable Dick and Nancy Schulze
Former United States Congressman

"Rick Brown is a consummate teacher. He blends a great command of his material with a wonderful sense of humor. My wife Deborah and I found his workshop informative, engaging, moving, and practically useful. After more than 20 years of marriage, I wasn't sure what more we could learn about discoveries that have truly enriched our relationship."

Tony Schwartz, NY Times Best Selling Author
What Really Matters: Searching for Wisdom in America

- Learning how to use your relationship for emotional healing and spiritual evolution.
- Helping each other finish childhood.
- New tools for re-romanticizing your relationship to re-establish the passion of your early time together.
- Discovering how the unconscious forces that attract you to your partner are also the source of conflict. Participants receive more information about themselves and their partner, organized in a new, more thoughtful way.
- New communication skills to break destructive cycles of relating. Couples learn how to channel the energy from their arguments to create passion and stability in their relationship.
- Greater compassion for your partner. This happens for everyone to a greater or lesser degree.

About Rick...

Having appeared on Oprah for his expertise in creating intimacy in even the most difficult relationships, Rick is recognized as a "therapist's therapist" – the one professionals are most like to turn to for help with their own marital and relationships issues.

He has presented his Getting the Love You Want: Workshop for Couples to audiences around the world in some of the most unique places – from a castle for the Royal Family of Denmark and their closest friends to the far corners of Namibia, Africa.

He appears regularly as the "Relationship Expert" for FOX TV and has served as the therapist for the NBA's Orlando Magic. He has spoken at every major psychotherapy conference from the Family Networker Symposium to Smart Marriages.

Business leaders have long recognized his skill in speaking to their groups –including IBM, Johnson and Johnson, Young Presidents Organization, and many of our nation's banks, hospitals, and churches.

Having been tapped by Harville Hendrix to serve as the Executive Director of the Institute for Imago Relationship Therapy, Rick has trained hundreds of psychologists, psychiatrists, and other mental health professionals in the theory and practice of relationship therapy. He is the author of Imago Relationship Therapy: An Introduction to Theory and Practice published by John Wiley Press.

Rick is a graduate of Florida State University, Princeton and Union Theological Seminary. As a psychotherapist he has over 40 years of clinical experience working with individuals, couples, and families. Rick and his wife Celeste have been married for 40 years and have three adult children.
